TELLS OF EARLY TRUCKING DAYS IN COOK COUNTY

The account of the annual meeting of the Truck Gardeners and Farmers association held last Saturday, was published in the edition of the Cook County Herald, of July 11th. That meeting represented the 25th anniversary of the association and was one of the most successful in recent years.

Talks were made by men who have been identified with the association since its organization. These talks were largely reminiscences of olden days and are interesting reading. The editor regrets that he can not publish all of those talks, but we are publishing the talk given by Mr. August Geweke.

It will recall to the minds of the older truck gardeners the days when truck farming met far more trials and hard work than now. It will also remind the young fellows that were they put in 10 or 12 hours a day, their fathers put in 16 and 20 hours.

Mr. Geweke's address:

As we go back as far as we can recall we find that undoubtedly the past leads into the future, history repeats itself but always in a new way. The farming industry started over 50 years ago but commercial gardeners were not known in Cook County except in the Lake View township. But the industry spread and when the Uptown district went out of business, the Jefferson, Niles, Niles Center and Dunning districts started. At that time there were toll roads in Cook County. All the main roads paid toll and were taken care of by the people who owned the roads. Chicago's main market, called the Old Era market, was where the growers gathered and sold their pigs, calves, butter and eggs and what ever the farmers raised and travelled many miles, some of them many days to get to and from the market. Soon a north side market was established at Halsted and North Ave., where trading was done at night on the street. For 15 years this was the best market in Chicago but became over crowded and many were forced to change from corner to corner when the property owners kicked. The North Ave. market went out of existence and the farmers had no real market about ten years prior to the life of this organization.

Market conditions were terrible, management was sometimes good and sometimes bad and the individual had no show. The toll roads also went out of existence about this time, they were taken away by the County from the men who owned them. Then real trouble started. For five or six years repairs stopped, the city did not do any repairing, and the townships could not, because they had no funds. The farmers packed their surplus products onto one horse and two horse loads and went into the streets and sold privately.

The peddlers were licensed and the farmers were chased out for not having a peddlers license. They gathered in the main stores and thrashed these things out. What were they to do? They could not get into the city because of the poor roads. The city of Chicago arrested a number of farmers for not having a scavenger's license for hauling manure, and others received notice to take out a license or arrest would follow. These men called on some of their friends, in particular, Henry Wulff, who took the matter up with other men and said, 'You need an organization if you want to work successfully in the future.' This news was carried over to Niles Center and an organization was talked of and a meeting was called and the Cook County Truck Gardeners and Farmers Association was formed and given its name at that first meeting. These meetings went on. There were many things to be done to start an organization. Henry Gerken, who was a boy, pretty well grown up and worked for Henry Wulff, in his private and public business, helped him in making the organization plans. He got his orders what to do and he did them. Whenever there was anything to be done, 'let Henry Gerken do it,' and Henry never failed. He was always on the job and today he did the work and made arrangements for this meeting. He received a watch from his old friend Henry Wulff, and in order to recognize this work done by him, the Board of Directors felt they would like to give him this watch chain to connect up with this old watch and at the same time to him to the organization.

How Association was Organized

It rested upon Mr. Henry Gerken to give the inside information as to the manner in which the Cook County Truck Gardeners & Farmers Association was born.

We publish the following extract from Mr. Gerken's talk:

It was some twenty five years ago that the fathers of the city got their heads together and somebody in their midst got the idea that the farmers and truck gardeners, living in the outskirts of the city, the so-called "hayseeds," would be easy picking. They passed an ordinance which provided that the farmers should be taxed and they got the idea that it would be a good scheme to tax them for having the privilege of removing from the city of Chicago, something that they must get rid of under the Health Ordinance and something the farmers must have for fertilizer in order to raise a good crop. So from my best recollection, several members had been arrested

Federated Women's Clubs Hold Mid-Winter Meeting

The Midwinter meeting of the DesPlaines Mutual Insurance Co., was held in the H. Roy Berry real estate office at Mt. Prospect Tuesday, Jan. 11. Secretary Geo. Busse gave a report that showed the good progress that the company has made the past year. Considerable new business is expected from Barrington township, where the mutual insurance company bearing that name, suspends operations this month. The Barrington company cancels all of its policies under date of Jan. 21st. Mr. E. G. Bauman, secretary of the Barrington Company, and Wm. H. Krumfuss a director of that company, will act as agents of the DesPlaines Mutual Insurance Co. The latter company is incorporated to handle business in Cook County only but it is expected to get the majority of the members of the defunct organization, who reside in this county.

The report of Secretary Geo. Busse, showed that the losses of the past year were $7,570.57, all of which has been paid. An assessment of three per cent was levied during the year, which brought in $16,042.93. The last previous assessment was in October 1923.

The main office of the company has been changed from DesPlaines to Mt. Prospect, but the policy of the company has not changed, which is and always has been to do a careful and economical business in the way of home insurance.

The standing of the company and the business transacted for the year 1926 is as follows:

Polices Issue in 1926

Value of Property ... $3,284,826.00

Insured value ..... 2,507,677.00

Notes ..... 128,669.00

Total Policies in Force Dec. 31, 1926, 2,699

Estimated value ..... 464,261.00

Insured value ..... 328,381.00

Notes ..... 22,478.00

The average cost of insurance to policy holders the past five years has been $8.50 per $1,000 insurance. The DesPlaines Co., is the second largest in Illinois.

The growth of the company is due to the loyalty and work of its officers and directors. Mr. Busse is giving to its interests a lot of time, which is bringing results.

The officers and directors of the company are:

Wm. Maas, president, Park Ridge.

Fred Wille, vice president, DesPlaines.

Geo. Busse, secretary and treasurer, Mt. Prospect.

Geo. L. Busse, assistant secretary.

Scout Troops Speed Up As Rally Draws Near

The birthday of the boy scout movement will be celebrated the entire week beginning Feb. 6, and ending the 12th. The 6th falls on Sunday and the ministers are asked to cooperate by giving over the whole day to the movement and the boys are asked to attend church in full uniform and be present the full day. The whole week will be given over to some phase of the scouting program and on Friday the 11th the big rally will be the big event of the week which will be held in the community church in Park Ridge, and all the troops in the district will participate.

All the troops are urged to prepare their material for a window display and make arrangements to secure a window. This display to be put on during anniversary week and considerable number of points will be given over to the troop having the best display.

Material as made by the scouts in their scout work should be shown. The troops are also asked to get right down to brass tacks at once and have their various teams picked for the various events and be ready for the Battle Royal. No standins will be published until the rally is over with, as no one will know just how each one stands. However there are about 6 troops almost dead locked for first place now. Remember points on tests passed count only up Jan. 31. Feb. 1 starts point counting for the next rally to be held in Barrington in May which will be a field meet.

A bit of sadness entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Frost of Park Ridge when their son David died last Saturday. Funeral services were held at the home on Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock and interment was in the Evanston cemetery. David was an active scout in troop one Park Ridge and was an ideal scout and a friend to all and will be missed by all the scouts not only of his own troop but that of others as well. Mr. Cates scoutmaster of troop 1 was present and made the necessary arrangements for the scouts to act as pallbearers and guards of honor.

The two boys who blew taps at the grave certainly deserve mention as it was well done. The entire scouting organization wishes to extend to Mr. and Mrs. Frost and family their sympathy in their bereavement.

The other speakers, John Ruesch

Peter Hoffman, Ed. Lawlor and Wm. Busse, referred to more recent occurrences, telling of the good that the association has done or the truck growers of the county and their pleasure of being able to serve their friends in matters in which they were interested.

Out in California,
Sunlight everywhere,
Tell you friends, you're lucky
To be living there.
Never hear of zero.
No coal bills to pay
Not a single inch of snow
To be cleared away.
Sitting in the sunshine
Fishing, dreaming dreams;
Catching tourists on your line,
With bait of golden schemes.

those interesting birds out there.
He said in several years residence in Montana, he had never seen a nicker until within the past two years. Now there are many. In early days there were no trees or shrubs and no telephone poles to supply their needs, with the growth of trees they have come.

Dear a-me, you can just see the plans and schemes, permeating the recesses of our realtors brain, or whenever the latest word in science lets thought carry on. Yes, you can just see they are full of plans for building and improvements in all sections of Arlington Heights;
a peek into the Redeker's real estate office shows they are "beginning at home," by refinishing and putting in partitions for a separate conference room.

When the dreary winter weather settles over Arlington Heights, the "good neighbors" should remember to call on some of our new residents, from the city, who miss so many places to go, and so many who kept the air astir about them.
They are not yet used to the quiet and aloneness of their new homes and need a neighborly cheer from those about them. Be a good neighbor!

There is a whole volume of humor in some of us, free born republicans of America, evinced in the tenacity with which we cling to some petty title or office. Saw about a colored man who insisted on a star before his name in the telephone directory "But that star"
he was told, "is to indicate a P. B."
"Dat's me, my name is Percy Benjamin Xavier Jones." Had a circular from a minister the other day, a good man, when you can untangle him from the alphabet, he sticks out, and before his name, Dr.
Rev. P. H. D. D. and why does he do it?

Out in the silent city on the hillside is a plain red granite marker,
with this inscription, "Edward Barrett, minister." He was a man of large abilities who filled high and honorable places, and ministered
well. When he left this world whatever claim to honor, the people to whom he ministered knew, and the Master knew, what need of more?

If you look deeply into the life
of those about you, you will find,
not always those in high places, or at the head of things are the personages to be accredited with the greatest effort to bring about the very activity they so proudly seemingly lead. No, the real workers are generally in the rank and file, even as it was in the beginning!

Right here, let me again remind you of Mayor P. J. Mors open letter in last week's Herald, asking an expression of the village board and voters on two important questions—lights, and garbage disposition. The mayor reminds the people that the contract with the gas company, ends with this year, and is in danger of being renewed automatically, as was the case five years ago. If you have any care or opinion on these matters now is the time to express them.

Sometimes we are given to complaining about affairs carried on in our village without due notices.
Now here are two important questions you are kindly urged to express your views on. Don't fail to do this. You remember how often the question is asked, "Why do we not have our town lighted with electricity?" The answer shows our own stupidity: We allowed a renewal of five year contract to go by, automatically, because of our neglect. Now isn't it better to show and express your interest if you have any, at the right time, or before after hold your peace?"

So many have asked the origin of the "Teddy Bear" fad. A Washington cartoonist started the fad,
on hearing the following incident:
Roosevelt out with hunting party
promised to bring a bear home with him. After a few days that bear had been sighted. Heavily armed the sportsmen set out, to find only a little black cub bear only about eighteen inches long. Two strong men were holding it. Roosevelt smiled at the sight and said: "Why I'd be ashamed to face my children again, if I shot that little cub—" The rest was easy, the cartoons, the Teddy Bear and the campaign was on.

Isn't it singular, with all that is written and spoken by lecturers, concerning our native birds, and our migratory birds, so many remain uninform'd? Some one recently asked in the people's column of a daily, if it was a sign of an early spring to see blue jays
this time of year, and exultantly said he saw two that morn. Another saw, a gross back cardinal,
and yet these people should know jays, red birds, crows and even some sheltered places robins abide in the vicinity the whole year around.

Our town is shaken from center
to circumference, with the sudden deaths of four of our citizens, in as many days. First came Mrs.
Dettman's in the Altheim, where she has been for the past five years or more. She, I am informed had not been unusually well
for some time, but it was not expected she was so near death. A kind neighbor and a good woman,
who left her home with sorrow. She has now found her home where no parting or sorrow can trouble or distress.

Mrs. Lewis, had been ill for some time, but few knew she was so seriously ill. She was the mother of a large family most of them clustered about her. She was a faithful attendant at the Presbyterian church where she will be much missed. Then came the sudden

FIRST NATIONAL DINES, BIG JUICY MELON DIVIDED

We often hear of banks and corporations "Cutting a Melon" for their stockholders when they declare a good dividend but it remained for the First National Bank of Palatine to put on a real example of eating the melon as well as cutting it, when they held their first annual stockholders banquet in the banquet hall of St. Paul's church Tuesday evening. The Ladies Aid of St. Paul's church Tuesday evening. The Ladies Aid of St. Paul's church furnished the splendid banquet to the stockholders, their wives and guests in their usual bountiful style.

The stockholders had already received the news of an 8% dividend for 1926 and it was a happy bank family which gathered for the banquet. President R. L. Peck explained in his remarks that the banquet might be called a treat from the board of directors. The directors serve without pay and decided instead of voting themselves compensation to have a banquet and good time and invite the whole family. That the whole family enjoyed the affair was amply proven by the good time everyone had.

President Peck introduced as speaker for the evening President O. A. Christensen of the Capitol State Savings Bank and the Edin Park State Savings bank. Mr. Christensen gave a very fine talk on banking and financial matters, bringing out particularly the fact that it was not only a bank's function to make money but that a bank also owed the community a duty of service. He pointed out the great strength which the First National held through its connection with the Federal Reserve system. He also emphasized the fact that the greater number of stockholders a bank had the greater number of boosters it would have.

The First National bank of Palatine is particularly fortunate in the fact that its stock is not owned and controlled by a few persons but that its $37,500 of capital stock is held by seventy-eight stockholders, thus making it a real community institution, owned and operated by a large number of stockholders.

Following Mr. Christensen's address the diners were entertained by Mr. Hugh Aspinwall, soloist and by a cartoonist who furnished a great gale of amusement by his cartoons of some of Palatine's leading business men drawn from life right before the whole crowd. Mayer Daniels, E. P. Steinbrink and H. H. Schoppe were called forward to pose for the illustrator. After having finished with the men he called on Mrs. Peck to "stand for her picture."

An orchestra furnished unlimited music during the evening and added much to the occasion.

Following the banquet the stockholders held their annual meeting and election of officers. The entire evening was one of neighborly good fellowship and the stockholders were greatly pleased that following the erection of their new building with all of the attendant expense, the business of the institution was in such good shape as to warrant an 8% dividend. Because the dividend a portion of the debt on the new bank was paid off and a substantial sum added to the surplus fund.

The evening ended with every one present hoping for many more like it in years to come and with a feeling of community cooperation between stockholders and officers which can only mean a continued and growing success for the First National Bank of Palatine, which will place it among the most powerful banks in Cook county.

The deposits of the bank have grown from $32,263.98 on Dec. 31, 1922 to $35,628.38 on Dec. 31, 1926. A period of only four years. Deposits have increased over $25,000 during the last year. The total resources of the bank at present are in excess of $422,000. A wonderful growth during the past few years with still greater growth in prospect in the years to come. Directors elected were Ralph L. Peck, C. D. Taylor, F. F. Daniels, H. H. Schoppe, Charles Quindell, Henry Bulius and Dr. R. M. Gibbs.

An earned dividend of fifty per cent for the year 1926 was the good word that the stockholders of the State Bank of Palatine received Monday, Jan. 10, at the occasion of their eighth annual meeting.

The spirit of the meeting was excellent. The splendid progress and wonderful earnings that the bank has made the past year was very encouraging and the stockholders showed their appreciation by extending a vote of thanks to the officers and staff for their good services for the past year and to the directors for the manner in which they have handled the affairs of the institution.

President C. F. Remnack called the meeting to order and turned the meeting over to the appointed stockholders and judges of election.

Chairman Olms of the auditors committee read his report. The secretary read a report of the condition of the bank and the earning for 1926 in which it was shown that the earnings for the year 1926 were 50 per cent. The best year in its history. 15 per cent was paid in dividends. $5000.00 transferred to surplus.

Contingent fund increased to $500.42.

The balance was left in undivided profits.

The capital account now stands as follows:

Capital ..... $25,000.00

Surplus ..... 30,000.00

Undivided profits ..... 2,210.53

Reserve account ..... 5,004.92

Total ..... $62,215.45

At the annual election Messrs. C. F. Remnack, W. H. Altendorf, A. S. Olms, Wm. Henning, Dan. H. Bergman, Herman Zinn and F. A. Scherding were again chosen as directors.

The directors met the following day and again elected Mr. C. F. Remnack as president; E. H. Oltenford as vice president; F. A. Scherding as cashier. Miss Gussie Olms and Mr. Stroker were retained in their present positions for the coming year.

Community M. E. Church Sunday services for January 16. Sunday school with classes for all ages 10 o'clock. Sermon by the pastor, 11 a.m. Subject: Walking with God. Congregational singing directed by Mr. F. E. Gryka.

Epworth league 6:45 p.m. Subject: Grounded: Shallow or Deep. Evening worship 7:45. Opening with song service of old familiar songs. Sermon by the pastor: Mindin' One's Own Business. As special music, Mr. Curtis McFall will sing one of his inspiring solos and the choir will sing. Remember now, Thy Creator, by Mrs. Carrie B. Adams. With the expert direction of Mr. H. G. Taylor, and with the very efficient assistance of Miss Elizabeth Seffern at the piano, our musical program insures ample compensation for an evening spent with us at the church.

In spite of the storm a very creditable number came to the evening service Sunday. This speaks well for the church goers of our city.

The choir will rehearse Friday, January 14, at 7:30 p.m. It is hoped that every member of the choir will be present. This is a very real part of the service to be rendered to this community by our church. The gospel in song is just as fruitful as the gospel in sermon.

Betty Barclay's Weekly Recipe

Any time is cookie time for children, and a cookie or two is much better as an after-school bite than heavier foods that take the edge from the appetite for the evening meal.

Here is a recipe for a delicious cookie that may be made quickly from ingredients on hand or easily procurable at the nearest store.

Drop Cookies

1/4 cup fat

1 cup brown sugar

2 eggs

1/2 teaspoon salt

2 teaspoons baking powder

2 tablespoons lemon juice

1 cup finely chopped peanuts (or any nuts)

2 cups flour

2 tablespoons water

Cream the fat, adding the sugar gradually then the beaten eggs and the lemon juice and water. Sift the flour, baking powder and salt together and add to the first mixture. Add peanuts which may be put through the food chopper, using the finest cutter. Drop by teaspoon on shallow greased pans or on a baking sheet, having the cookies about an inch apart to allow for spreading. Bake in a hot oven until brown.

SCHAUMBURG

Let us all do a little towards improvement and make Schaumburg one of the nicest residence towns in the county. Stick together and it can be done. There are prospects for two Golf Courses and a little boost from our own citizens will help. Try it and see what can be done. Messrs. T. H. Powers, president and R. W. Taylor, secretary and manager; both promoters of the Deauville Country club were here Sunday looking over the club grounds and inspecting the temporary club house that is now under construction by our expert carpenter, Mr. Jensen. The new club house, which promises to be one of the finest in this part of the country will be started as soon as possible. Other plans call for a lake or lagoon made possible by the streams that now pass thru the property. It is expected that there will be a large number of bungalows built the coming year.

MT. PROSPECT
Watch It Grow
F. L. H. LUEDERS, Editor

This is the time we start out with congratulations to parents of future citizens. On January 2 a baby boy arrived at the home of Helmuth Gosch; January 5 a baby girl entered the home of Emil Griecke and on January 6 a baby arrived to bless the home of Henry

J. Ehard. All the mothers and babies are reported as doing nicely and we hope that these babies may be a real pleasure and joy to their parents.

The time is here for our local autoists to secure their vehicle license. Let us do it now and not delay the matter until it is too late. It is a good policy to get the necessary license early and save the village clerk from a rush on the last day of grace. Truly our autoists are on the job and will get their plate real early. Nineteen hundred and twenty-seven is a year of opportunity and it is with pleasure that we look forward and plan on what we intend to do. It will be an eventful year for our village as quite a few miles of paving will be put in and we will be able to say this is the best paved village in the county. Have not the father of good roads as our village president, it was William Busse who started the cook county good roads program which now is the model of every county and state and therefore the paving in our village will be we hope a model for other villages.

We are pleased to publish the list of officers for 1927 of V. F. W. Prospect Post No. 1337.

Commander, William Genrich.
Senior Vice, Emil Dreyer.
Junior Vice, Emil Greinke.
Quartermaster, Dudley Budlong.
Adjutant, John Gerken.
Chaplain, Christopher Katz.
Trustee, Fred Schultz.

Officer of the Day, John C. Hildebrandt.

This post was organized in April 1925 with ten members, now they have 29 members that is an increase in membership of 190 per cent, some record for the year.

We hope that all of the organizations in Mt. Prospect will be able to boast of this kind of an increase at the end of '27.

Our Chamber of Commerce is about to start a "Trade at Home" program. Too true it is that many of the residents of the various villages prefer to trade out of town, why is this, the answer can not be in values and prices as the local merchant surely can offer values and prices as well as any merchant can, but the fact remains that our local merchants all carry a high quality of merchandise, which they offer at reasonable prices. Another thing to think about is the fact that your local merchant is a builder in your village, the more he builds up his business the better it is for the village and indirectly it is a benefit to you, as you are a part of the village just as he is, consider this, "Trade at Home" and help build your own village to your benefit or rather to our mutual benefit. The more money we spend in our village the more stays at home and we can expect our merchants to give us better and more service than our dollar can secure anywhere else. Bear it to mind and "Trade at Home."

Sunday, Holy Communion will be celebrated at our church in the German service which will begin at its regular time, the congregation meeting will be held at 2 p.m. urged to attend. Go to church Sunday and you will not regret it, it will be a pleasure to you and be a real benefit to you in many ways.

Blue Law Enforcement Proposed in Barrington

With the opening of the Barrington movie theatre upon Sunday a storm of protest has risen and the village board has been asked to intervene by passing an ordinance prohibiting Sunday shows. An ordinance has been presented to the village board. Action has been deferred. Barrington has never had Sunday movies before.

Mrs. Chas. Lemke and daughter Eleanor are visiting with relatives in Haughton, La.

Mrs. Chas. Miller suffered a broken arm when she slipped and fell while dusting rugs at her home last week.

Mr. Guy Wilson, our village policeman is away on a two months furlough. Mr. Wilson has not been well and expects to undergo an operation while away. Mr. Wilson was well liked by all in the community and it is hoped that he will be physically fit to resume his duties here again in the near future.

The cantata rendered by the Methodist choirs of Arlington Heights and Palatine in the Presbyterian church was thoroughly enjoyed by a large audience. A neighboring congregation and many representatives from other towns, came in to share this musical treat, so generously offered to us by these neighboring churches.

The only regret on the part of the local church was that the visiting choirs felt that they could not accept the offering we wished them to have. After all, the spirit of good will created by such social and spiritual inter-course, is of far greater value than could possibly be measured in dollars and cents.

It is hoped that this may have only been a fore runner of real Christian cooperation on the part of the churches in and about our community.

The regular morning worship service at the Presbyterian church next Sunday will be a communion service. Anyone desiring this service, regardless of denomination is invited to attend.

Three children of the Aug. Vogt family were injured in an accident which occurred on their way home on Sunday morning. The car in which they were riding was struck by a car bound in the opposite direction while they were driving past the Union Hotel. The children were taken to the Wheeling hospital where it was necessary for them to remain until Tuesday afternoon. We hope none of the injuries may be permanently serious and that they will soon be able to take their places among their schoolmates.

An entertainment in the shape of a movie production of Uncle Tom's Cabin will be given in the Wheeling school on Monday evening, Jan. 17, at 8 o'clock. Admission 50¢ for adults, 25¢ for children, the proceeds to benefit our Parent-Teachers association. Come and see the story in picture which helped win the civil war, also a true portrayal of the stain on our country, which that war blotted out.

Sunday, Holy Communion will be celebrated at our church in the German service which will begin at its regular time, the congregation meeting will be held at 2 p.m. urged to attend. Go to church Sunday and you will not regret it, it will be a pleasure to you and be a real benefit to you in many ways.

The Woman's club met Wednesday, January 5, to hear an address by Miss Harriet Vittum on Settlement work. Her exposition of this work which she has earnestly helped to carry on was instruction and interesting. Miss Vittum has been well known in her public work in Chicago for many years and her taking time from her busy life to come to us, was such a fine thing, and much appreciated. She surveyed the Settlement Work purpose and ideals from the beginning in London so many years ago told some of the things had been accomplished in this country. Reviewed the work in Chicago and told of her own active part of the work.

There was singing by a group of ladies in which were Mrs. Guild president of the club; Mrs. C. E. Lorenzen, leader of vocal music; Mrs. Dobson, Mrs. Briggs, Mrs. Elfeld, Mrs. Daniels. Mrs. Daniels accompanied at the piano.

Refreshment was served by the committee and a social hour spent.

There were many reasons why the attendance was regrettably small. The holiday season, the prevalence of grippe, and the home entertaining, all contributed to keep members at home. Those present very much enjoyed the afternoon and Miss Vittum's address.

The club will meet January 19, in the club rooms. Program: Trend of Modern Literature, Mrs. Rexford Volz. The place of art in life, Mrs. Henry Tegtmueller. Music.

Palatine Lions
And Ladies Have
A "Double" Night

The Palatine Lions and their ladies had a big time last Friday night. It was like a progressive party. The first "session" was at the dining hall of St. Paul's church the second was in the gymnasium of the Arlington Heights high school. The ladies of the church served a fine oyster and roast pork supper and the lions were all well fed when they left Palatine for the basket ball game at the Heights. The gym was packed to the doors, and the noise was terrific, but where ever there was a lion, there was a man who was making a little bit more noise than the others. The result of Palatine's raid upon Arlington Heights was published in the Tuesday edition and the score of 39 to 13, which the "heavies" took away with them that night, has won for them the promise of a good dinner from the lions as soon as the training season ends.

Welcomes New Bride

It is not every day that a bride enters the fold of the Lions club and it is not every day that a member of the "Knighted Bachelor Club," leaps into the matrimonial sea. The ladies serving the dinner last Friday night had arranged a bride's table and special decorations in honor of our genial postmaster and his bride. It was a complete surprise. As Mr. and Mrs. Hitzemann entered the dining room, the strains of the wedding march was sounded by Lioness Bruhns, and the newly weds led the march to the tables. The bachelor club had a small souvenir at each place, bidding farewell to Harold. The three remaining bachelors were accorded places at the head table.

100 pouches of Christmas mail

were burned up in a mail storage car of the Santa Fe train No. 9, en route from Chicago to Los Angeles. Because the majority of the pouches contained delayed Christmas gifts, the amount of the loss will not be known for some time. The overturning of an oil lantern in the car is supposed to have started the fire.
